THE IMPACT OF PEST INFESTATION ON BUSINESS

- > Property & equipment damage
- > Unpleasant smell & presence
- > Parasite transfer & health risks
- > Council fines
- > Closure order

The unfortunate fact is that wherever food is being stored, prepared and served, there exists a serious threat of cockroaches, flying insects, rats and mice. These pests can transmit diseases that could easily spread to humans.

Whether you run a cafe, a pub, a chain of prestigious restaurants, a commercial kitchen or a private catering outlet, you must have a robust pest control programme in place or you are putting your business, staff, and customers at risk.

How we do rodent treatment & proofing

- > Blocking entry points
- > Dealing with present rodents
- > Regular inspections

We resort to a variety of effective means of capturing and/or eradicating the mice and rats that are present at the premises. Also, after a thorough inspection of the place, we are able to block those “secret” entry points the rodents use to sneak in. This way, we make sure that your place of business is 100% protected.

How we do insect treatment & proofing

- > Knock-down treatment
- > Secondary treatment/proofing
- > Regular inspections

After the property is inspected, the pest controller determines the best course of action. Usually, a treatment with almost immediate effect will take place. It all depends on the type of insect we are dealing with. After a period of time, a secondary treatment may be applied. When the infestation progress is stopped and the place is treated properly, you can be sure that the situation is under control.

HOW TO PROTECT YOUR BUSINESS

The best defense against pests is a good offence. Check out our easy-to-follow prevention tips below to deter unwanted fines and successfully keep matters strictly business.

As part of the Fantastic Services family, we can help you with all these tasks, just give us a call!

Keep your kitchen and floors clean

The smell of food is a magnet for pests. By having your kitchen regularly cleaned, the place won't be as welcoming to bugs and rodents. Stains and spills can attract many troublemakers, so keeping the floors clean can help a lot. Fantastic Services can offer Commercial Kitchen Cleaning & Hard Floor cleaning.

Have all nooks & crannies dealt with

Cutting off the tiny infiltrators' access points is just as important. Keep an eye out for potential pest entrances, such as small holes in suspended ceilings and lengthy wall cracks. Fix those in time to avoid costly repairs and boost the efficiency of your company across the piece.

You can have Fantastic Handyman to help you out.

Have your carpets & upholstery regularly cleaned

Crumbs and accidental coffee stains can attract anything from cockroaches to rodents. Deep clean all carpets and furniture, make them look cosy and attract new clients, instead.

Invite Fantastic Cleaners in for the Carpet & Upholstery cleaning.

Keep your storage rooms organised

Never keep rubbish around for too long. Bags of waste and even old furniture and appliances are known to attract pesky animals.
